

INTRODUCTION

In a globalized banking industry, banks around the world must provide high-quality and homogeneous across countries financial information, fulfilling the needs of their users, regulators, and supervisors. The International Financial Reporting Standards, due to their large international acceptance, represent the language able to meet this purpose.

A Complete & in-depth IFRS Program for Banking Accountancy

The course will enable students to critically examine the effects of IFRS reporting on economic decision making, and the broader impact on Banks and society.

The students will analyze empirical accounting questions related to the Banking industry to stimulate critical enquiry into the theory behind the standards, the effects and the degree to which the standards achieve their aims. It will develop students' critical and analytical abilities.

The program is developed through the completion of case studies that simulate aspects of the real-world application of IFRS knowledge. The students will acquire the accounting knowledge of complex transactions realized by Banks.

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

(Ethics Committee Provisions Against Plagiarism and Copying)

We value honesty. Without it, there can be no trust or any meaningful social relations. Therefore, the School expects honesty and fairness from all of its members: professors, non-academic staff, and students.

Dishonest behaviours will be sanctioned in accordance with the University Norms on Student Academic Discipline of August 2015, and include lying, cheating in exams, and plagiarism in written work. We take such violations seriously. Depending on their gravity, these offences will be dealt with by the Professor in charge of the subject, by the Dean of Students, and in very severe cases, by the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Sanctions include:

- formal warnings
- prohibition from entering University premises for a given period
- loss of admission rights to exams
- loss of scholarships
- A failing grade for the piece of work or the whole course
