

PRESENTACIÓN

Breve descripción: Globalization has far-reaching consequences on the economy, management, and society. It presents an abundance of ethical challenges at all levels of business and work: at the systemic (macro-), organizational (meso-), and personal (micro-) level. Therefore, it needs fair and effective rules, customs, and institutions, but also the professional ethics and integrity of individuals and organizations. This course aims at raising ethical awareness, expanding the ethical knowledge, and improving the ethical judgment of the students. It undertakes to clarify key concepts and uses multiple case studies. It encourages students to think on their own independently, critically, and in a responsible manner.
