The weighting of the re-sit exam is 100% of the final grade; no continuous assessment activities submitted during the semester are taken into account.

IMPORTANT! Students with special educational needs must first contact the Academic Coordination Office of the School of Education and Psychology in advance to obtain authorisation for any necessary adjustments (e.g. extra time for exams). This authorisation must be sent by the student to the lecturer. It is recommended that this be done at the beginning of the semester.

PLAGIARISM AND COPYING

In the event of plagiarism in the submission of assignments and other irregularities such as cheating during exams, it will be penalised in accordance with the regulations.

Universidad de Navarra

Plagiarism is “presenting another person’s work or ideas as your own, with or without their consent, by including them in your work without full acknowledgement. This applies to any material—printed, digital, unpublished, or generated by AI.” (University of Oxford, n.d.).

For further details on specific forms of plagiarism, such as verbatim copying, paraphrasing without citation, collusion, inaccurate referencing, and self-plagiarism, see the University of Oxford Academic Skills guidance: <https://www.ox.ac.uk/students/academic/guidance/skills/plagiarism>.

Please note that AI-generated content must not be cited as an author. In these cases, please cite the original sources the content is based on and not the AI tool. Otherwise, using AI texts without acknowledgement also counts as plagiarism.
