

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

States are the most relevant actors in International Relations (IRS). Law is an essential tool for IRS (for example, International Treaties). Law is also vital to shaping the States' institutions (Governments, Parliaments, Courts of Justice), enforcing public policies and democratic processes, and ensuring the effectiveness of the rights of the citizens and human rights throughout the world.

The fundamental purpose of this course is to help students to develop knowledge and understanding of those categories. You will need them to become an IRS expert. After taking this subject, students will be able to evaluate the arguments of others and to make independent judgments regarding Law and the State in the context of the IRS.

Students will improve their reading critically with this course, drafting clear, reasoned, and well-documented arguments supported by sound evidence.

SYLLABUS

Part 1. Law and the State in Context

Lesson 1. International vs Internal Perspective

Both are important, but this subject focuses on the internal perspective key to understanding the international dimension.

Lesson 2. State, Government and Politics

What are we dealing with? Clear-cut distinctions to be able to grasp complex realities.

Lesson 3. Phenomenological Approach to the State: Types of States

Law and the State are universal phenomena, manifesting in relevant events and daily life. Their main manifestations can be observed and assessed.

Classifications of States help to grasp some of its main features but cannot avoid the reality: each State is unique.

Lesson 4. Political Theories Regarding the State

Political Theory and Legal Jurisprudence have studied Law and the State for centuries. What are some of the main approaches?

Lesson 5. State Ruled by Law

Law performs different roles depending on the type of State. Should it be connected to justice?

Part 2. The Law in a Constitutional State

Lesson 6. Basics on the Law

Legal traditions, basic concepts, legal reasoning and interpretation, fields of Law.

Lesson 7. Private Law

The branch of Law which deals with mutual relations between citizens. The Law of Contract, Tort Law and Property Law.

Lesson 8. Criminal Law

Universidad de Navarra

Between sword and shield.

Lesson 9. Administrative Law

Authorities, agencies and administrations in the quest for the common good, the limits and remedies imposed by Law.

Lesson 10. Procedural Law

General principles and central aspects of procedures.

TEACHING ACTIVITIES

I. CLASSROOM TEACHING ACTIVITIES

1. Lectures (Required)

Lectures are given by the professor on the themes indicated in the syllabus with the help of the blackboard or PowerPoint presentations. The professor will post the PowerPoint presentations on ADI. The lectures explain the lessons' meaning, foundations, and basic concepts.

2. Seminars (Required)

They consist of a discussion or an application activity in groups previously organised by the School administration and include:

- Review of ideas of previous classes and reading assignments.
- Responses to students' questions by the professor and classmates.
- Presentation by the professor of current scientific issues related to the course.
- Debates by students on topics or materials prepared by the professor.
- Oral presentations by the students on topics proposed by the professor. The students will have to answer questions at the end of the presentation.

Active participation in lectures and seminars is strongly encouraged. In Lectures and seminars, students should follow the ideas, take notes, and ask what they want to be clarified.

3. One-to-one tutorials

Each student may have personal interviews with the professor to help them with personal study and learning.

4. Evaluation

Exams to assess the successful accomplishment of the objectives

II. PERSONAL WORK

Students must understand themes covered early in the course to comprehend information presented later and must be able to integrate material learnt throughout the course. Therefore, they mustn't fall behind and try to set aside regular times outside class to work on the course material.

Universidad de Navarra

1. Students must study the assigned reading for a subject before the lecture covering that topic. The Timeline available in ADI specifies what and when those reading assignments must be studied.
2. Students should conduct a personal study using the professor's notes, notes taken in lectures and seminars, and reading assignments.
3. In seminars, students may be required to explain reading assignments to other students.

III. DISTRIBUTION OF ACTIVITIES (credit/hours)

1. Lectures and seminars: 45 h. (four every week).
2. Evaluation: 4 - 6 h. (mid-term plus final exam).
3. On-to-one tutorials: 1 h.
4. Personal study and work: 100 - 110 h. (six to seven hours weekly, more before the exams)

Total: 150 h. (6 ECTS= 150 h 1 ECTS=25 h).
