

PRESENTACIÓN

Breve descripción: This course investigates marketing and brands as drivers of culture, history & innovation. It hopes to build in students an appreciation for the cultural and social dimensions of marketing. It doesn't pretend to cover the whole field but it will expand the horizons of marketing students. Its aim is discovery: a look at the best practices of the past will help students conceive the marketing ideas that shape the present and can define the future. Student attendance is expected.

They are expected to participate in the classroom, demonstrating engagement with the course content. Occasionally students work on short essays and they develop mentoring conversations with the professor.

Theoretical face-to-face classes (60 h.)

Class preparation and personal study (81 h.), students essays (4 h.), mentoring (3 h.), and final exam (2 h.)

EVALUACIÓN

CONVOCATORIA ORDINARIA

The subjects' evaluation in December has two components:

a) The grade of the textbook's test, made up of ten short and specific questions about the class presentations and the textbook (Tungate, Mark. Adland: A Global History of Advertising, Kogan Page) (70%).

b) The professor's and students' assessment of students' engagement and participation in class (30%).

To count the grades on participation, students must reach at least 4 out of 10 points in the December 4 exam. Below 4, students will need to repeat the exam in June.

Please read the below statement carefully.

The School of Communication advocates the ethical use of documentary sources and ICT resources.

For this reason, any, and all forms of plagiarism are completely unacceptable in this subject. Plagiarism will be penalized across all tasks: projects, exercises, and examinations. Plagiarism is defined as the whole or partial use of textual, graphic, and/or audiovisual content produced by a third party without crediting the original author(s).

Likewise, any form of fraud, deception, pretense, or falsification aimed at improving one's academic results by illicit means will be penalized.

Correct spelling and grammatical accuracy are to be observed in all written tasks and examinations. The evaluation of such activities takes these requirements into account.

- Academic projects that draw on books, articles, films, websites, and/or any other documentary sources should include a complete list of works cited. The style guide of the American Psychological Association \(APA\) is to be followed in this regard.

CONVOCATORIA EXTRAORDINARIA

The exam (June 12) will include ten short and specific questions about the textbook (Tungate, Mark. Adland: A Global History of Advertising, Kogan Page) and our class presentations.
